Superintendent's Report

To the School Board of Unity:

I am submitting the annual report of the public schools for the year ending January 30, 1933. This report, my third, is the fourteenth of the supervisory series.

A strong effort has been made to decrease the district expenses, without lessening the efficiency of the schools. The two departments of the Centre school were united and Miss Kane has been given charge of the combined school. It requires a superior teacher to do efficient work in so large a school and Miss Kane secures satisfactory results. At East Unity Mrs. George is successfully conducting a school of nearly thirty pupils.

For the past three years the enrollment of pupils in the County school has been larger than those in either East Unity or Unity Centre, numbering more than fifty one year. Last year ten children chiefly from the County were transported to the primary school at the Centre. This year it was decided to reopen the Quaker School. Although nineteen children are registered in this school, the membership at the County School is now twenty-six, and the total enrollment thirty-seven. There is little difference in the membership of the three schools.

SCHOOL	Teacher	Fall Term Enrollment
E. Unity	Mildred F. George	28
Unity Centre	Anna Kane	31
County School	Carroll P. Abbott	31
Quaker School	Irene Tupper	19
		109

In the school census of September, 1932, the enumerator found 124 children between the ages of 5 and 16 years. 104 of these were accounted for in the local schools and 9 were found in outside high schools. Nine children between the ages of 5 and 8 were not in school attendance and two who had completed the elementary school course of study had discontinued school attendance.

SCHOOL HEALTH WORK

At the beginning of the school year special attention is given to weighing of all school children in all the schools. Weight is an important guide, weighings being made at intervals of about every three months. The weight is recorded on a class room chart, also on the health records which are kept in school. The children are greatly interested in their own development. The follow up health service carried on by the nurse comes after the health inspection that is made at the beginning of the school year. The homes of the children who seem below normal health are visited and the parents are advised. Results of this important activity are fairly gratifying. Most of the parents are co-operative and carry out the instructions given regarding the health of their children. Many home calls are made at the request of the parents seeking the nurse's advice.

September 1932

98 children were weighed, measured, and a check up made on their health shows that:

14 children failed to gain the normal amount (at least five pounds a year) for growth.
5 children have nervous disease.
4 children have defective vision.
8 children had pediculosis.
11 children had skin disease.
17 children had poor postures.

12 children had enlarged tonsils (probably diseased)
6 children have adenoids.
